Call for Proposals: Spring 2024 Talking Teaching and Forum Events

An email sent by AcademicAffairs@csbsju.edu on 11/27 with a call for proposals for Spring 2024 Forum or Talking Teaching events. The Center for Teaching and Learning and the Research and Grants Office invites you to submit your proposal. Proposals for Spring 2024 are due on Friday, December 15 at 5:00 p.m.

These series will alternate between class days (Mon/Thurs), times (12pm/3pm), and campuses (CSB/SJU) to try to accommodate as many faculty and staff as possible. Please see the email for more details.

Upcoming Events

TODAY: Thursday Forum: Margaret Bonds' Ballad of the Brown King: A new critical edition and introduction to her work

3:00 – 4:00 p.m., Thursday, November 30th, SJU Learning Commons 378

Facilitated by Dr. Adam Kluck, Music.

Sponsored by the Research and Grants Office.

Join for the last Forum of the semester! Perfectly suited for the Christmas season. The Ballad of the Brown King is an exceptional piece for Christmastime, as it chronicles and focuses on one of the kings' journey through the eyes of librettist Langston Hughes. Dr. Kluck is finishing a new critical edition of the piece for Alfred Music and will discuss how Bonds uses her expertise to weave several uniquely American musical styles into this significant and overlooked piece.

TODAY: Joint Faculty Assembly meeting

4:30 – 6:00 p.m., Thursday, November 30th, SJU Quad 264 and Zoom

Zoom link: <https://csbsju.zoom.us/j/8852413992>

President Bruess, Provost Ice, and COO Kolomitz will present on the Strategic Directions and Initiatives.

Shout Outs

A shout out to Tony Yan in Global Business Leadership, who presented his research “A Philosophical and Methodological Aspect of a Futuristic Understanding of Marketing (FUM)” at the Society of Marketing Advances (SMA) annual conference. This research applies philosophical, statistical, and quantum physics frameworks to 'explain' and 'predict' futuristic marketing changes. Dr. Yan is polishing the manuscript for a journal publication. Congrats, Tony!

Another shout out to Louis Johnston in Economics who published a new essay “When Midwestern Cities Were the Richest in the Nation,” in Middle West Review. Congrats, Louis!

Want to Shout Out your own achievements or raise up one of our colleagues? Submit a Shout Out here or find the link on the Research & Grants Office page.

Library

An email sent by AcademicAffairs@csbsju.edu on 11/17 with a request to solicit your library-licensed streaming videos and eBooks requests for Spring Semester 2024.

Please send David Wuolu (dwuolu@csbsju.edu) your list of films you'd like streamed for next semester before January 1 to make sure films are ready to go by the 1st week of classes. Swank and Criterion On-Demand offer feature films, while Kanopy licenses documentaries that we don't already have available on Films on Demand or Academic Video Online \(AVON\). Here's the link to streaming videos through the Library Website: <http://guides.csbsju.edu/video>

Please request any library eBooks, licensed multi-user eBooks for the upcoming semester. This could save your students money! eBooks currently available are findable in our library catalog and there are direct links to the various platforms on our eBooks page.

Faculty members can also place DVDs or other library media items on semester-long reserve. This ensures that specific items will not be loaned out via Interlibrary Loan and will remain available for CSB/SJU class use. Please use the Reserve Form to request materials for the upcoming semester.

OURS (Office of Undergraduate Research)

Now Accepting Proposals for 2024 Summer Collaborative Grant! Deadline is February 2!

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars has committed to funding a total of 13 student-faculty collaborative teams to work on a wide range of research and creative work projects. These funds are available to ALL disciplines and are distinct from traditional departmental lines held by each department. OURS recognizes the importance of centering Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in our on-campus research efforts; as a result, we will always prioritize projects that emphasize DEI work.

In alignment with our mission as Liberal Arts & Sciences institutions, we are also pleased to welcome applications for Interdisciplinary Team research projects, where faculty from two different disciplines explore an interdisciplinary topic while supporting two student collaborators.

If you are interested in mentoring a student collaborator over Summer 2024 and have a well-designed project, please consider applying by February 2, 2024. Please visit our website to view the prompts and submit your proposal.

OURS is hosting drop-in office hours on December 1 and December 5 from 10:30am-12pm to answer questions about the application process. Link to Zoom: <https://csbsju.zoom.us/my/lindseyours>

URFAC encourages you to utilize our Collaborative Grant Proposal Development Support Page, where faculty can access view our SCG Workshop Recording, the evaluation rubric, view examples of successful past proposals, and connect with faculty liaisons in a variety of disciplines that you can connect with to ask questions and share ideas as you work on your proposals.

If you have questions, please contact Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars for additional support at undergradresearch@csbsju.edu.

The Study

Consider connecting your students, your department and your expertise with resources at The Study. As a new resource, academic strategy material is constantly under development. Feel free to share your recommendations, wishes, and wildest dreams for additional content!

Resources for Students:

Meet with a peer academic coach to develop and improve academic strategies. Popular topics this week: developing a final exam study strategy and managing time well in the last weeks of the term. Students may schedule in advance through the Hive or drop-in at Alcuin 371.

Consult Canvas for how-to information for specific situations. Examples: how to take notes, how to engage an audience during poster presentations, how to appropriately request recommendation letters.

Opportunities for Faculty and Departments:

Interested in creating or sharing information via The Study about how to learn well in your discipline? See examples for Learning in Specific Subjects on The Study's Canvas page, under "Study Smarter" and contact Theresa Anderson (tanderson@csbsju.edu) to explore possibilities.

Faculty Professional Development

An email sent by AcademicAffairs@csbsju.edu on 11/10 with information on a faculty development opportunity through Collegium's Annual Colloquy. It will be held June 14-21, 2024 at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, MA. Application deadline is February 12th. Please click here or contact Rodger at RNarloch@csbsju.edu for more information.

Hosted by CSB and SJU Human Resources.

A big congratulations to Kevin Lamb, Assistant Director of Residential Life and Housing, SJU. Kevin was awarded the UMR-ACUHO Outstanding New Professional Award at their annual conference in early November. The UMR-ACUHO Outstanding New Professional Award is awarded to recognize an individual in the Upper Midwest Region who displays outstanding ability and potential as a new professional in college student housing. Recipients have displayed creativity in problem-solving, a commitment to their own professional development, and have sought to improve the skills and knowledge of colleagues, paraprofessional staff or residents.

Do you know a Bennie or Johnnie Alumnae/i who has served in the United States Military? Please help us by encouraging any Bennie or Johnnie Alum to let CSB and SJU know about their service so they can be honored:

In accordance with Section 2.16.3.2.h of the Faculty Handbook:

Faculty are expected to participate in annual programming on excellence in inclusive teaching. Academic Affairs will consult with the Joint Faculty Senate Executive committee and the Joint Faculty Senate Committee on Inclusion, Equity and Justice regarding the content and delivery of the annual programs.

For the 23-24 academic year, Academic Affairs and the JFS IEJ subcommittee of the JFS endorses a range of opportunities for faculty to consider. Faculty are expected to seek out at least one opportunity this year to contribute to their learning in this area.

Here are examples of options for faculty selection:

- Attending Center for Teaching and Learning events and programs on inclusive teaching (e.g., Inclusive Pedagogy Community of Practice, book discussion groups, etc.)
- Attending inclusive teaching presentations sponsored by departments, programs, and campus-wide grants (e.g., HHMI Inclusive Excellence grant workshops and virtual HHMI ARC speaker series, virtual opportunities provided via Academic Impressions (see instructions to access below), DEIJ speakers and workshops sponsored by academic departments and programs, etc.)
 - Asynchronous trainings offered by Academic Impressions.
 - You can easily set up an Academic Impressions account by going to <https://www.academicimpressions.com/csbsju/>, clicking the blue box and entering your CSB and SJU network username and password. For help signing into your account or questions about member resources, please reach out to our Account Manager, Niece Washington at niece@academicimpressions.com or 720.988.1264.
- Attending workshops and resources from campus experts and researchers in DEIJ-related areas (e.g., relevant Thursday Forum presentations, Resources developed by CTL Distinguished Scholars, etc.)
- Pursuing opportunities from professional societies and other groups with which CSBSJU is affiliated (e.g., Inclusive STEM Teaching Project, etc.)
- Learning from one another by sitting in on a faculty's DEIJ-related course (if class is not full, and with their permission)
- Writing a DEIJ external grant to learn from the literature and proposal outcomes

Going forward, Academic Affairs staff, in coordination with the JFS IEJ committee, will regularly highlight relevant opportunities for faculty in The BUZZ and on a dedicated website (coming soon).

Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars

Call for Proposals for 2024 Summer Collaborative Grant

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars has committed to funding a total of 13 student-faculty collaborative teams to work on a wide range of research and creative work projects. These funds are available to ALL disciplines and are distinct from traditional departmental lines held by each department. OURS recognizes the importance of centering Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in our on-campus research efforts; as a result, we will always prioritize projects that emphasize DEI work.

In alignment with our mission as Liberal Arts & Sciences institutions, we are also pleased to welcome applications for Interdisciplinary Team research projects, where faculty from two different disciplines explore an interdisciplinary topic while supporting two student collaborators.

If you are interested in mentoring a student collaborator over Summer 2024 and have a well-designed project, please consider applying by February 2, 2024. Please click here to view the prompts and submit your proposal.

The grant funds student stipends for 10 weeks of full-time paid research worth nearly $6,500. After projects are approved, students also have guaranteed access to $600 in Production Grant funding through the OURS Grant Program. Faculty mentors may apply for the stipend of $1,500 for mentoring one or multiple students during the summer. (Note: the stipend amount does not increase for mentoring multiple students from other funding sources).

PROPOSALS WILL BE EVALUATED ON THE FOLLOWING (Please Note Word Count):

- 1) Clarity and feasibility of goals and potential outcomes
- 2) Quality of student role
- 3) Benefits to the student (please include specific examples)
- 4) Quality of faculty mentorship, including considerations for addressing DEI topics/barriers.

For example: expose students to DEI issues in the field through discussion and reflection, create an inclusive students research experience and group, build and support a team of students from diverse backgrounds, ensure hours of research are flexible enough to support students who may need to incorporate other things into their summers.

- 5) Clarity and feasibility of timeline (please include week by week)
- 6) Benefits to faculty

To ensure equitable access to research experiences, Student Collaborator positions will be posted through Student Employment and students will be invited to apply. Proposals should also include a short job description and characteristics/skills that would make a student a good fit for this position. Faculty mentors will have autonomy in the Student Collaborator selection process.

Proposals will consist of written responses to prompts in Forms Manager at this link. Please note the word limits.

REVIEW PROCESS

Applications are due by 11:59 pm on February 2, 2024 and will be reviewed and vetted by the Undergraduate Research Faculty Advisory Committee. Succinct responses are appreciated. Our goal is to notify faculty members by mid-February. Faculty members whose projects are approved for funding may then proceed to recruit students for the funded position.

OTHER GUIDELINES FOR YOUR PROPOSAL

- Proposals must account for 400 hours of summer work, recognizing that the students may not log more than 40 hours per week.
- Any project involving Human Participants must apply for IRB approval, and you must address this in your proposal. Note that these timelines take longer during the summer, and no full reviews occur during the summer.
 - If the proposal requires a Full IRB review, the project must be IRB-approved by May 1.
 - If the proposal requires Expedited or Exempt review, please account for the IRB review process taking approximately 2-3 weeks.
- No more than 1 project proposal will be considered per faculty member
- No more than 1 student researcher will be granted per project. It is ok to have a student collaborator in mind, please DO NOT include their name in the proposal.
- Non-tenured faculty members will be given priority (tenure status to be indicated by applicant on the form), as well as never before funded faculty.
- Faculty members whose departments do not have other summer funding available (i.e., departmental lines dedicated to research, grants, etc.) will be given priority (other funding sources to be indicated by applicant on the form).

SUPPORT FOR PROPOSAL DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars is hosting office hours from 10:30am-12pm on Friday, December 1 and Tuesday, December 5 to drop in and ask questions about proposal questions. Link to Zoom Office Hours:

WELCOMING TRANS STUDENTS

How welcomed and included do trans students feel in our classes and programs? How can we support all students in learning to respect their trans classmates and to understand the diversity of gender in human experience? In this session, we will cover key concepts and terminology for discussing trans identities and experiences; identify risks, barriers, and resilience factors for trans students; and practice concrete tools for allyship that we can use immediately to better welcome and support trans students.
