

THE BUZZ: Academic Success Weekly Newsletter

Fall Semester: Week 14 Issue

Strategic Plan Updates

Dr. Ice (Provost) and Dr. Kolomitz (COO) hosted a webinar on Friday, December 1st to present the strategic priorities that will guide our institutions into the future. The webinar was recorded and can be viewed here.

An email sent by provost@csbsju.edu on 12/5 with information about the Strategic Plan Directions and Initiatives Descriptions and opportunities to volunteer to champion a strategic initiative by contributing your skills, passion, and ideas. Click here to by Tuesday, December 12 with your top 4 initiative choices. You will be assigned one initiative. The initiative leads will be scheduling initial meetings in January. Please wait to hear from your lead as to what initiative you are assigned.

Integrations Curriculum Student Resource

An email sent by AcademicAffairs@csbsju.edu on 12/7 announcing the new Integrations Curriculum Student Resources Canvas site that is now available to all student, faculty, and staff. The site is meant to be a useful tool for anyone wishing to better understand the goals of the curriculum and that it can be used to help orient students to courses and designations as well as support advising.

If you have students to recommend for video testimonials about the IC, we would love to know about them. We've created a form where you can post those suggestions along with any other questions or comments you have about that site.

Accepted Student Days

An email sent by AcademicAffairs@csbsju.edu on 12/5 announcing the upcoming Accepted Student Days during the spring semester, along with the schedule for those days. These events will all take place on the CSB campus on the following days:

- Monday, February 20
- Friday, March 17
- Friday, March 31

An Information Fair will take place 10:30 – 11:15 a.m. in the Field House in the HCC on event days. Each department will have a table to display information helpful to prospective students and their parents. Please respond to Erik Aschenbeck ([easchenbeck@csbsju.edu](mailto: easchenbeck@csbsju.edu)) and let him know whom from your program will be at each event by Wednesday, February 1. Erik will be your contact for any questions you may have about the Accepted Student Days.

OURS (Office of Undergraduate Research)

Now Accepting Proposals for 2024 Summer Collaborative Grant! Deadline is February 2!

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars has committed to funding a total of 13 student-faculty collaborative teams to work on a wide range of research and creative work projects. These funds are available to ALL disciplines and are distinct from traditional departmental lines held by each department. In alignment with our mission as Liberal Arts & Sciences institutions, we are also pleased to welcome applications for Interdisciplinary Team research projects, where faculty from two different disciplines explore an interdisciplinary topic while supporting two student collaborators.

If you are interested in mentoring a student collaborator over Summer 2024 and have a well-designed project, please consider applying by February 2, 2024. Please visit our website to view the prompts and submit your proposal.

If you have questions, please contact Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars for additional support at undergradresearch@csbsju.edu.

The Study

Consider connecting your students, your department, and your expertise with resources at The Study. As a new resource, academic strategy material is constantly under development. Feel free to share your recommendations, wishes, and wildest dreams for additional content!

Resources for Students:

Meet with a peer academic coach to develop and improve academic strategies. Popular topics this week: developing a final exam study strategy and managing time well in the last weeks of the term. Students may schedule in advance through the Hive or drop-in at Alcuin 371.

Consult Canvas for how-to information for specific situations. Examples: how to take notes, how to engage an audience during poster presentations, how to appropriately request recommendation letters.

Opportunities for Faculty and Departments:

Interested in creating or sharing information via The Study about how to learn well in your discipline? See examples for Learning in Specific Subjects on The Study's Canvas page, under "Study Smarter" and contact Theresa Anderson (tanderson@csbsju.edu) to explore possibilities.

THE 17TH ANNUAL
Eugene J. McCarthy
LECTURE

Conscience & Courage
in Public Life

The Hon. Philip Davis K.C., MP

Prime Minister of the Commonwealth of The Bahamas

Monday, Dec. 11, 2023
7:30 p.m.

Stephen B. Humphrey Theater
Saint John's University

Prime Minister Davis is an acclaimed corporate and human rights lawyer, legal educator and an advocate for climate resiliency especially for small island nations.

Greetings!

We are reaching out today on behalf of the Admission Office to request your assistance with four very important yield events for the classes of 2024. This year the Admission Office is again hosting a series of Accepted Student Days. These events will all take place on the CSB campus on the following days:

1. Monday, February 19
2. Friday, March 15
3. Monday, March 25
4. Friday, April 5

The goal of these programs is to cement the value of our schools, highlight our deep investment to our students, and finalize any questions as to why we are the right college choice for them. To help with this, the Admission Office is hosting an academic and student resource information fair as part of the program. We are asking for your help, as an expert in your area, to take part in the Information Fair to engage with prospective students and families and help drive home the why of CSB and SJU. The day will also include time for students to meet with their admission counselor and for parents to hear from school administrators. (See full schedule below)

The Information Fair will take place from 10:30–11:15 a.m. each of the four event days in the Field House in the HCC. Each department will have a table to display information helpful to prospective students and their parents. Please see below for ideas to make your table attractive and welcoming to students:

Signage and fact sheets will be provided for each program. Please wear your name tag. One faculty member needs to staff your table (additional faculty members and current students majoring in your area are encouraged). If you have a visual to display and need an easel, please let Erik know (contact information below). Can you provide an interactive activity at your table to draw students in to support/talk about your major?

Students and their parents will appreciate this opportunity to talk with you!

Please respond to Erik Aschenbeck (eamchenbeck@csbsju.edu) and let him know who from your program will be at each event by Wednesday, December 13. Erik will be your contact for any questions you may have.

Thank you in advance for your help on these VERY important yield events. This is your time to showcase your program!

Thank you for your partnership!

Richard Ice, Provost and Cory Piper, Dean of Admissions

In accordance with Section 2.16.3.2.h of the Faculty Handbook:

Faculty are expected to participate in annual programming on excellence in inclusive teaching. Academic Affairs will consult with the Joint Faculty Senate Executive committee and the Joint Faculty Senate Committee on Inclusion, Equity and Justice regarding the content and delivery of the annual programs.

For the 23-24 academic year, Academic Affairs and the JFS IEJ subcommittee of the JFS endorses a range of opportunities for faculty to consider. Faculty are expected to seek out at least one opportunity this year to contribute to their learning in this area.

Here are examples of options for faculty selection:

- Attending Center for Teaching and Learning events and programs on inclusive teaching (e.g., Inclusive Pedagogy Community of Practice, book discussion groups, etc.)
- Attending inclusive teaching presentations sponsored by departments, programs, and campus-wide grants (e.g., HHMI Inclusive Excellence grant workshops and virtual HHMI ARC speaker series, virtual opportunities provided via Academic Impressions (see instructions to access below), DEIJ speakers and workshops sponsored by academic departments and programs, etc.)
 - Asynchronous trainings offered by Academic Impressions.
 - You can easily set up an Academic Impressions account by going to <https://www.academicimpressions.com/csbsju/>, clicking the blue box and entering your CSB and SJU network username and password. For help signing into your account or questions about member resources, please reach out to our Account Manager, Niece Washington at niece@academicimpressions.com or 720.988.1264.
- Attending workshops and resources from campus experts and researchers in DEIJ-related areas (e.g., relevant Thursday Forum presentations, Resources developed by CTL Distinguished Scholars, etc.)
- Pursuing opportunities from professional societies and other groups with which CSBSJU is affiliated (e.g., Inclusive STEM Teaching Project, etc.)
- Learning from one another by sitting in on a faculty's DEIJ-related course (if class is not full, and with their permission)
- Writing a DEIJ external grant to learn from the literature and proposal outcomes

Going forward, Academic Affairs staff, in coordination with the JFS IEJ committee, will regularly highlight relevant opportunities for faculty in The BUZZ and on a dedicated website (coming soon).

Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars

Call for Proposals for 2024 Summer Collaborative Grant

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars has committed to funding a total of 13 student-faculty collaborative teams to work on a wide range of research and creative work projects. These funds are available to ALL disciplines and are distinct from traditional departmental lines held by each department. OURS recognizes the importance of centering Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in our on-campus research efforts; as a result, we will always prioritize projects that emphasize DEI work.

In alignment with our mission as Liberal Arts & Sciences institutions, we are also pleased to welcome applications for Interdisciplinary Team research projects, where faculty from two different disciplines explore an interdisciplinary topic while supporting two student collaborators.

If you are interested in mentoring a student collaborator over Summer 2024 and have a well-designed project, please consider applying by February 2, 2024. Please click here to view the prompts and submit your proposal.

The grant funds student stipends for 10 weeks of full-time paid research worth nearly $6,500. After projects are approved, students also have guaranteed access to $600 in Production Grant funding through the OURS Grant Program. Faculty mentors may apply for the stipend of $1,500 for mentoring one or multiple students during the summer. (Note: the stipend amount does not increase for mentoring multiple students from other funding sources).

PROPOSALS WILL BE EVALUATED ON THE FOLLOWING (Please Note Word Count):

- 1) Clarity and feasibility of goals and potential outcomes
- 2) Quality of student role
- 3) Benefits to the student (please include specific examples)
- 4) Quality of faculty mentorship, including considerations for addressing DEI topics/barriers.

For example: expose students to DEI issues in the field through discussion and reflection, create an inclusive students research experience and group, build and support a team of students from diverse backgrounds, ensure hours of research are flexible enough to support students who may need to incorporate other things into their summers.

- 5) Clarity and feasibility of timeline (please include week by week)
- 6) Benefits to faculty

To ensure equitable access to research experiences, Student Collaborator positions will be posted through Student Employment and students will be invited to apply. Proposals should also include a short job description and characteristics/skills that would make a student a good fit for this position. Faculty mentors will have autonomy in the Student Collaborator selection process.

Proposals will consist of written responses to prompts in Forms Manager at this link. Please note the word limits.

REVIEW PROCESS

Applications are due by 11:59 pm on February 2, 2024 and will be reviewed and vetted by the Undergraduate Research Faculty Advisory Committee. Succinct responses are appreciated. Our goal is to notify faculty members by mid-February. Faculty members whose projects are approved for funding may then proceed to recruit students for the funded position.

OTHER GUIDELINES FOR YOUR PROPOSAL

- Proposals must account for 400 hours of summer work, recognizing that the students may not log more than 40 hours per week.
- Any project involving Human Participants must apply for IRB approval, and you must address this in your proposal. Note that these timelines take longer during the summer, and no full reviews occur during the summer.
 - If the proposal requires a Full IRB review, the project must be IRB-approved by May 1.
 - If the proposal requires Expedited or Exempt review, please account for the IRB review process taking approximately 2-3 weeks.
- No more than 1 project proposal will be considered per faculty member
- No more than 1 student researcher will be granted per project. It is ok to have a student collaborator in mind, please DO NOT include their name in the proposal.
- Non-tenured faculty members will be given priority (tenure status to be indicated by applicant on the form), as well as never before funded faculty.
- Faculty members whose departments do not have other summer funding available (i.e., departmental lines dedicated to research, grants, etc.) will be given priority (other funding sources to be indicated by applicant on the form).

SUPPORT FOR PROPOSAL DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars is hosting office hours from 10:30am-12pm on Friday, December 1 and Tuesday, December 5 to drop in and ask questions about proposal questions. Link to Zoom Office Hours:

<https://csbsju.zoom.us/my/lindseyours>

URFAC encourages you to utilize our Collaborative Grant Proposal Development Support Page, where faculty can access the evaluation rubric, view examples of successful past proposals, and connect with faculty liaisons in a variety of disciplines that you can connect with to ask questions and share ideas as you work on your proposals.

If you have questions, please contact Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars for additional support at undergradresearch@csbsju.edu.
