

Dr Abel Scribe PhD

The page or document you are looking for has moved.

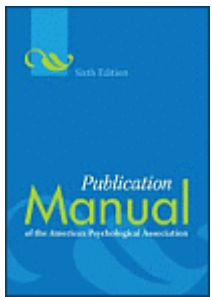

Doc Scribe publishes concise style guides for crafting college papers in the style of the American Medical Association (AMA), American Sociological Association (ASA), American Psychological Association (APA), Chicago(Turabian) Manual of Style (CMS), and Modern Language Association (MLA).

The following pages have links to all the documents on the site:

- Home Page/Index Page: <http://www.docstyles.com/index.htm>
- AMA (Medical) Links: <http://www.docstyles.com/amaguide.htm>
- APA (Psychology) Links: <http://www.docstyles.com/apaguide.htm>
- ASA (Sociology) Links: <http://www.docstyles.com/asaguide.htm>
- Chicago-Turabian Links: <http://www.docstyles.com/cmsguide.htm>
- MLA (Humanities) Links: <http://www.docstyles.com/mlaguide.htm>

Everything on the site is free. The guides are available as indexed webpages or bookmarked PDF files. All the guides are current with the latest version of the respective style manuals.

References

	American Psychological Association. (2009). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Washington, DC: Author ($22). Link to Amazon.com: http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1433805618/ Read Doc's Review: http://www.docstyles.com/aparevue.htm/ Sixth Edition. The latest edition of the APA Publication Manual has tightened its focus on writing for publication at the expense of those crafting college or conference papers--gone is the old chapter 6, "Material Other Than Journal Articles." Also gone are 166 pages of text, which is better news for students. The section on avoiding bias is still the best found anywhere. See what's changed at http://www.apastyle.org .
	Modern Language Association of America. (2009). Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (7th ed.). New York: Author ($18). Link to Amazon.com: http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1603290249/ The MLA Handbook is one of the easiest research style manuals to use. It is compact and generally well focused on its main theme. The Handbook is also affordable with a price under $20. With the print edition you also get a secret scratch code that allows you access to the MLA website at http://www.mlahandbook.org. "The Web site includes the full text of the print volume (with over 200 additional examples), several research project narratives, sample papers, and additional resources" (MLA rear cover)." Read Doc's review: http://www.docstyles.com/mlarevue.htm

FBI Warning? You are welcome to print, link, or distribute the guides on this site for not-for-profit educational purposes. Instructors are encouraged to use the guides in their classrooms. No additional permission is required. Guides are revised from time to time; you are invited to link directly to the document rather than post it to another site. © 2012 Dr Abel Scribe PhD