Upcoming Events

TODAY: The Forum: Comparing Women's Presence in Politics in Brazil and the United States
3:00 – 4:00 p.m., Thursday, April 11th, SJU Learning Commons 378

Sponsored by the Research & Grants Office

Presenters: Pedro dos Santos (Political Science)

Both Brazil and the United States lag behind other countries in the Americas when it comes to women's presence in elected positions. While there are some similarities to why the two largest countries in the region still struggle with women's equality in political power, there are also interesting differences between them that can help us understand more about how gender dynamics impact politics beyond these two cases. This talk will provide an overview of the presence of women in elected positions in Brazil and the United States, discussing some cultural and institutional differences that influence the presence of women in power in both countries.

Provost Open Office Hour

1:30 – 2:30 p.m., Friday, April 12th, Zoom

Zoom link: <https://csbsju.zoom.us/j/93252068844>

Echoes of the Divine: A Dialogue between Jewish and Christian Musical Traditions

3:00 – 4:15 p.m., Sunday, April 14th, SJU Stephen B. Humphrey Theater

Sponsored by the Jay Phillips Center for Interfaith Learning

Join for a concert and conversation with Amy Grinsteiner (piano), Stephanie Arado (violin), and David Jordan Harris (narrator). Free and open to the public. This event has both AR/FAE and Race/Ethnicity co-curricular designations. Find more information here.

The Forum: New Directions in the Humanities

3:00 – 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 15th, SJU Learning Commons 378

Sponsored by the Research & Grants Office

Presenters: Bruce Campbell, Kristin Colberg, Jessica Harkins, Emily Paup, and Jason Schlude

New times call for new approaches. While the study of the Humanities is important now more than ever, the landscape of higher education compels us to continue to evolve in how we imagine the Humanities and how we engage students with them. CSB and SJU is part of this story. In this Forum, five faculty members will give pitches for new directions in the Humanities at CSB and SJU. Their perspectives are diverse, coming from programs including Ancient Mediterranean Studies, Strategic Communication Studies, English, Gender Studies, Hispanic Studies, History, Languages and Cultures, Latino/Latin American Studies, and Theology. The goal is to share and discuss tangible ideas for the future of the Humanities in the liberal arts education we offer.

Teaching Sparkshop: How Faculty Can Support Student Survivors of Sexual Violence
4:30 – 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 16th, CSB Gorecki 120

Presenters: Amanda Macht Jantzer, Tamara Henes Vix and Jody Terhaar

Sponsored by the Center for Teaching & Learning

Please join a discussion of strategies for supporting student survivors of sexual violence. Presenters will share resources for faculty and teaching staff, work through common scenarios, and facilitate discussion. Snacks and beverages available. This is part of the Supporting Student Mental Health Microbadge program.

Dr. Adam Sowards: On the Liberal Arts, Citizenship and the Environment
4:30 – 5:30 p.m., Thursday, April 18th, SJU Peter Engel Science Center 269

Sponsored by the Environmental Studies Department and the History Department

Dr. Sowards will talk about the broad application of the liberal arts to understanding, navigating, communicating, and impacting the future— all from the perspective of history and with an emphasis on the environment, citizenship, and engagement. See the attached packet for more information.

JFA Meeting

4:30 – 5:30 p.m., Thursday, April 18th, CSB Gorecki 204

Special guests: President Bruess, Provost Ice, and COO Kolomitz

Leadership Legacy: Igniting Potential with Justice Alan Page
7:00 – 8:00 p.m., Thursday, April 18th, SJU Pellegrine Auditorium

Presenters: Justice Alan Page

Sponsored by the McCarthy Center for Public Policy and Civic Engagement, Saint Ben's and Saint John's Student Senates, Student Athlete Advisory Committee and Johnnie Development Institute

This event will focus on Alan Page, his life, and how he was able to overcome odds to serve his community. This will be a 45-minute talk, with a 15-minute Q & A audience involvement.

Gather

5:00 p.m., Friday, April 26th, Milk & Honey

Sponsored by the Research & Grants Office

Join at Milk & Honey for the last Gather event of the year, featuring Lauren Ergen, Ayan Oman, Terri Rodriguez, and Jennifer Meagher (authors) of the new book, Light Through a Prism: Social Justice Teaching for Refugee and Displaced Students. Pandemic-era teaching arrived on the heels of a worldwide asylum crisis impacting millions of children and educators. Join us for a reading and discussion with the authors of the new book, Light Through a Prism: Social Justice Teaching for Refugee and Displaced Students. Together we will explore how we might raise awareness of these students' unique strengths and needs, affirm the courageous and compassionate work of teachers, and gather tools for building more equitable schools and communities. Enjoy good colleagues and conversation and free cookies from Flour & Flower and cider from Milk & Honey!

Grand Strategy Leadership Summit

3:30 – 5:30 p.m., Thursday, May 2nd, SJU Quad 170

Sponsored by the Languages and Cultures Department and the McCarthy Center for Public Policy and Civic Engagement

You are invited to the Grand Strategy Leadership. At 3:30 p.m. there will be a refreshment hour with "Grand Strategy" student exhibits on "Why I Lead." And then at 4:30 p.m. there will be presentations, with keynote by and Q&A with President Brian Bruess.

Retirement Gatherings

If your department is hosting retirement gathering and you would like it to be included in The Buzz, please submit a request here.

Dan Finn's Retirement Gathering

3:30 – 5:00 p.m., Monday, April 22nd, CSB Main 107

Please join the Economics Department in honoring Dan Finn for his 47 years of service to the department and the CSB and SJU community! Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars

Call for Proposals for the 2024-2025 Emerging Scholars Program

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars is now accepting proposals for our next cohort of the Emerging Scholars Program for the Academic Year of 2024-25. If you are interested in mentoring an Emerging Scholar and have a well-designed project, please consider applying here. Priority faculty deadline is May 1.

What is the Emerging Scholars Program?

- The Emerging Scholars (ES) Program exposes underrepresented students to three high-impact practices over the course of their first year at CSB and SJU: undergraduate research, learning communities, and on-campus student employment.
- The students selected for this program will be paired with a faculty mentor that is committed to working with underrepresented students and our program's mission of making undergraduate research accessible to students from all backgrounds.
- Students selected to be an ES will be offered a full-time, paid, on-campus student employment position (10 hours per week) for the entire academic year under the mentorship of a faculty mentor.
- The student will assist their faculty mentor with hands-on research or creative work, will have access to personal and professional development and networking opportunities, and will be a part of a unique learning community that will foster a sense of belonging on campus.
- Faculty mentors participating in the program will also receive a stipend for the meaningful time they invest with their mentee.

Proposals are being evaluated on the following criteria:

1. A well-designed proposal that outlines:
 - a. Project abstract
 - b. Summary of goals
 - c. Student tasks: tasks should be reasonable, but meaningful for a first-year student to take on.
 - d. Areas of Skills & Knowledge that the Scholar will explore and learn over the course of the year that will be transferable to future research or creative work.
2. A plan for meaningful mentorship of an underrepresented student.
3. A Statement on Diversity/Inclusion. The statement should outline the faculty member's commitment to learning, serving, and mentoring underrepresented students, as well as a commitment to promoting undergraduate research as an accessible and inclusive high impact practice at CSB/SJU.

Proposals will consist of written responses to prompts on the application found here. Questions about the program or proposal process can be sent to undergradresearch@csbsju.edu. Learn more about the Emerging Scholars Program here.

Fall 2024 College Success Course (INTG105) Call for Instructors

Faculty and staff interested in serving first-year students are strongly encouraged to apply to teach INTG 105 College Success in Fall 2024. The College Success course is a fundamental component of dedicated programming for incoming CSB and SJU students that we call the First-Year Experience (FYX). Through the course, instructors have an opportunity to serve as an early point of connection for new students and help set them up for success at CSB and SJU.

Course Description:

The purpose of this 1-credit course is to help entering first-year students make a successful transition to CSB and SJU. The course aims to: foster a sense of belonging, promote engagement in curricular and co-curricular campus life, and facilitate skill development for academic success at CSB and SJU.

Course Format:

The course meets once per week for 55 minutes throughout fall semester. Each section of the course is assigned a peer mentor who has been competitively selected and trained to provide personalized guidance and mentorship to first-year students in the INTG105 course.

All INTG 105 instructors are employees at CSB and SJU, either faculty or professional staff, and come from a variety of departments and programs across the campuses. Instructors receive training from the First-Year Experience (FYX) and INTG105 course director beginning with an orientation in Spring 2024 and concluding with a formal course preparation workshop in August 2024. Ongoing support during the class term is provided by the INTG105 course director.

INTG105 is not a lecture-based class; rather, students will reflect on information provided in the course, engage in discussions, and complete practical assignments that help prepare them for their college experience. For example, students will be asked to attend the “Involvement Fair” and the “Academic Exploration Fair” at different points during the term and then connect what was learned to their college success through written reflection and group discussions. The course is capped at 26 students per section and will be offered at various times across both campuses. See the application form for additional details.

Syllabus and Canvas Site

The INTG 105 syllabus, weekly lesson plans, and Canvas course are all created in advance and provided for instructors. Lesson plans have been developed in coordination with experienced INTG 105 instructors and have been adapted over time, based on assessments in the course. While course content is set in advance to achieve consistency, instructors are encouraged to add their own talents and skillsets to the classroom.

The course Canvas site will contain all necessary course assignments and materials. All instructors are expected to use the course Canvas page including operation of the gradebook.

Sample weekly schedule*:

Week 0	First class meeting during new student orientation on Friday am, 8/25
Week 1	A Week of Firsts @ CSB and SJU – Personal Networking 101
Week 2	Liberal Arts & Sciences at CSB+SJU and the Integrations Curriculum
Week 3	Using Student Resources at CSB+SJU (The Network for Academic Success)
Week 4	Personal Well-Being: The Balancing Act of College Life
Week 5	NO CLASSROOM MEETING (Out-of-Classroom Activity) CSB+SJU -- These Places Called CSB and SJU: Part 1
Week 6	CSB+SJU -- Developing A Sense of Place: Part 2
Week 7	All Things Benedictine
Week 8	NO CLASS MEETING (Fall Break)
Week 9	Academic and Professional skills Development, Part 1: An Overview of the Registration Process (Academic Advising Staff facilitate)
Week 10	Academic and Professional skills Development, Part 2: Preparing for Spring Registration (Academic Advising Staff facilitate)
Week 11	The Experience HUB
Week 12	Standing Out: The Liberal Arts After CSB and SJU (CSB and SJU Alum panel)
Week 13	Final Class meeting of INTG105
Week 14	NO CLASS MEETING (Thanksgiving Break)
Week 15	(if needed; any/all outstanding assignments due by 12/4)

*Some adjustments may be made to the schedule for Fall 2024.

Instructor Requirements and Stipend Information:

INTG 105 Instructors must have a minimum of a master's degree to teach the course. Professional staff are encouraged to speak with their supervisor prior to applying. Faculty are advised to consult with their department or program chair. Instructors receive a 1-credit course rate stipend, and for AY 2024-25 that stipend is $1364.

Instructor Support:

The College Success Course director will provide support for instructors and peer mentors throughout the semester via check-in meetings and use of Microsoft Teams. Instructors and Peer Mentors will each have a dedicated Microsoft Teams site where updates and announcements will be posted. Each site also serves as a communication tool and forum where questions can be posted and answered.

For more information, please contact John Kendall (jkendall@csbsju.edu), Interim INTG105 Course Director (sabbatical replacement Spring 2024 only).

HISTORY OF LGBTQ+ REPRESENTATION ON CAMPUS

Watch Party

Date: Wednesday, April 10th

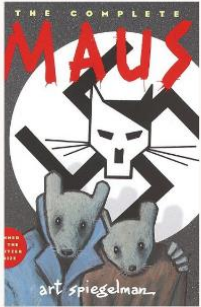

Time: 5:30 - 7:00 pm

Location: Multicultural Center Lounge

MAUS BY ART SPIEGELMAN

Sign up!

Maus is a haunting tale within a tale, weaving the author's account of his tortured relationship with his aging father into an astonishing retelling of one of history's most unspeakable tragedies. It is an unforgettable story of survival and a disarming look at the legacy of trauma.
